"THUNDERBALL"

Screenplay by Richard Maibaum and John Hopkins

Based on the Original Story by Kevin McClory, Jack Whittingham and Ian Fleming
1. CTD.

BOND
(grins sardonically)
At this moment, rather him than me.

LA PORTE
At least you have been saved the effort of removing him.... Colonel Boitier passed away in his sleep, so they tell me.

BOND
(shrugs)
I'm not the only one with a license to kill.

His eyes go nonchalantly up towards heaven, equally nonchalantly they drop again.

LA PORTE
You seem sorry it was not your.... your intervention.

BOND
(softly)
Jacques Boitier killed two of our Double-O people, this last six months... what d'you expect me to say?

She shrugs her shoulders, looks down.

LA PORTE
Perhaps nothing. Except that Madame Boitier is a singularly beautiful woman.

Down below, the service has come to an end, and the WIDOW, followed by her TWO CHILDREN and their NURSE, is going out.

BOND
As you say, a singularly beautiful woman.

He turns away, to go towards the steps that lead down to the ground floor.
2. EXT. CHAPEL. ENTRANCE. DAY

As the grieving widow, MADAME BOITIER, is led out by the surpliced PRIEST. She is young, beautiful, a symphony of exquisite sorrow in a trailing black dress which the wind moulde[s] around her lovely figure. Her veil falls over her shoulders but does not obscure her face, which reflects bravely-borne bereavement. Various dignitaries, the MAYOR, the JUDGE, the COMMANDANT of the local garrison, step up one by one to pay their respects, silently kissing her hand. To each she smiles graciously.

3. EXT. CHAPEL. SIDE ENTRANCE

As BOND and the attractive FRENCHWOMAN come out.

LA PORTE
Is there anything else the Deuxieme Bureau can do for Monsieur Bond?

BOND
(grins)
Later, without a doubt, but for the moment....

He looks offscreen.

4. FROM BOND'S POV. MADAME BOITIER

Accompanied by BRINON, her husband's husky, good-looking secretary, and her CHAUFFEUR, she moves past sympathetic people towards a big car - presumably from Ford Motors, some way away.

5. EXT. CHAPEL. BOND. LA PORTE

Walking toward entrance MADAME BOITIER, BRINON, and CHAUFFEUR in 3-G.

6. EXT. ENTRANCE CHAPEL AND COURTYARD

MADAME BOITIER walks gracefully to limousine parked at entrance. BOND and LA PORTE move into F.G. BOND watches as MADAME BOITIER, without waiting for BRINON or CHAUFFEUR to open door of limousine, opens it herself, gets in the back. BRINON gets in, sits beside her. The CHAUFFEUR seats himself behind wheel. Limousine drives off.

BOND
(softly)
As I said.... later......
7. EXT. LINE OF CARS OUTSIDE CHAPEL

Camera tracks with Bond as he walks quickly along cars. Holds as he reaches his Thunderbird. He gets in, she follows suit, a roar of the hooter as he drives off in same direction taken by limousine.

8. EXT. ROAD. ENTRANCE TO CHATEAU. BETWEEN HEDGES

As MADAME BOITIER's limousine turns into it and drives toward chateau in D.G., an imposing three-storey building with balconies outside windows. It stops at chateau steps, fifty yards away. The Thunderbird stops at entrance, BOND gets out of the car.

9. CLOSE SHOT. BOND

Looking between hedges.

10. CHATEAU FROM BOND'S POV.

MADAME BOITIER gets out of car, goes up steps into house, accompanied by BRINON. The children seem to have been left behind in the car.

11 and 12. INT. CHATEAU. LARGE FOYER

Broad staircase, leading up to gallery. MADAME BOITIER walks past BUTLER to staircase. CAMERA FOLLOWS her up staircase. BRINON remains at foot of staircase as she continues up it.

13. EXT. LANDING

MADAME BOITIER reaches it, goes through door into corridor.

14 and 15. INT. CORRIDOR. MADAMS BOITIER

Walking along corridor, turning corner, toward front of chateau. She comes to a door, opens it.

16. INT. LARGE SITTING ROOM

Louis Quinze décor. Fire burning in fireplace. Doors to balcony closed. MADAME BOITIER enters, starts into room, stops abruptly. CAMERA ANGLE WIDENS TO INCLUDE a large chair behind which two legs protrude, and then BOND is getting up lazily.

BOND
(gravely)
I came to offer my condolences —
16. CTD.

He pulls back his arm, slugs her on the chin with a terrific right. MADAME BOITIER reels back, crashes into a cabinet filled with rare pieces of china.

BOND
(reprovingly)
You shouldn't have opened that car door for yourself, Colonel Boitier!

BOITIER pulls back his knees, kicks BOND in the stomach with both feet. BOND staggers back. BOITIER pulls a knife from a scabbard strapped to the thigh, jumps to her feet, comes at BOND, knife poised. BOND knocks over a tall Grandfather's clock between them. BOITIER throws the knife. BOND ducks it, pulls his Walther out of shoulder-holster. Before he can level it, BOITIER dives over the clock, tackles BOND just below the knees, knocks him off his feet. The gun goes spinning and at the same time, MADAME BOITIER's wig comes off, revealing a man's cropped hair.

BOITIER fights his way out of BOND's grasp, leaving half the dress in BOND's hand, exposing the falsies he is wearing. They both dive for the gun, crashing together, momentarily stunning each other. They stagger to their feet, clawing at each other.

This time BOND finds the falsies in his hand. BOITIER slips in with a judo hold, throws BOND toward the fireplace. With BOND on his hands and knees, crawling away from the fire, BOITIER picks up a poker and smashes it down across BOND's back, bending the poker and knocking him flat. BOND groans. As BOITIER lifts the poker to brain him, BOND rolls into him, knocks him off his feet. Grimacing in pain, BOND gets up and behind BOITIER, who tries to rise.

BOND, still holding the falsies, whips them around BOITIER's throat, like a garrotte. BOITIER tries desperately to reach behind him to throw BOND off. BOND thrusts his arms out, crashing BOITIER's head against the stone fireplace, stunning him. Then he slowly tightens the falsies around his neck and strangles him.

CAMERA PANS TO DOOR as BRINON appears in it, the BUTLER behind him. They charge in toward BOND who hurls BOITIER's body at them, and then runs out onto balcony. BRINON and the BUTLER get to their feet, start toward balcony.
17. EXT. BALCONY. BOND

Struggling into the harness of a jet-pack. As they appear behind him, he activates pack, takes off over balcony railing.

18. EXT. BALCONY. SHOOTING FROM BEHIND BRINON AND BUTLER

As BOND jets away through the air toward hedges.

19. EXT. CHATEAU. MAIN GATE. DAY

BOND soars way above the Renaissance main entrance, far above Cellini's nymph and the dangerous horns of the castle's sculpture and stately stags.

20. EXT. ROADWAY NEAR CHATEAU. DAY

MADEMOISELLE LA PORTE leaves the engine running, hurries out of the Thunderbird parked at the corner of the road, quickly throws open the huge luggage compartment at the rear just as BOND comes down out of the air in a hissing rush of air from his jets.

As he lands, she helps him step out of the harness, and watches him as skilfully he folds up the mechanical contraption. It takes him no longer to do this than a golfer with a collapsible trolley, or a secret agent in Istanbul would take with a folding sniper's rifle.

BOND

No well dressed man should be without one.

He puts the machine into the back of the car. At the same time, a hundred yards down the road, the main gate of the chateau opens and THREE OR FOUR MEN come running out. They carry guns. BOND hurries forward to get into the car.

As the first of the MEN begins firing, BOND guns the motor and the car jerks forward with a screech of rubber on cobblestones. As it disappears at speed we......

DISSOLVE TO:
21. EXT. PARIS BOULEVARD HAUSMANN. DAY

Massive Second Empire Buildings, the main offices of important business and banking concerns. A morning in mid-February.

22. EXT. NO. 136

A car pulls up (not a Ford, but something of the Ferrari-Maserat breed) right in front of a big No-Parking sign.

A POLICEMAN hustles forward from the middle of the street, from where he has been shepherding PEDESTRIANS across the street. He raises an indignant hand.

FRENCH POLICEMAN

Vous plaisantez, Monsieur!

The MAN getting out of the car turns round.

FRENCH POLICEMAN

(suddenly apologetic)

Ah pardon, Monsieur Largo.... mille pardons.

A smile, a salute, and the next moment he has raised his white baton to club some unfortunate who is trying to walk across against the lights.

LARGO pulls his camel-hair coat across his shoulders. He is a powerful, middle-aged man, a man of elegance but also of authority, a man with friends in high places, but a man who does not need them. He crosses the sidewalk towards the entrance of a building on which stands a discreet bronze plaque. We read:

but poorly dressed middle-aged couple, the KARLSKIs.

MAN

not interested in politics, only in litation.

He jumps to his feet and bows deferentially as LARGO passes him.

MAN
Bonjour, Monsieur Largo.

LARGO acknowledges him, continues toward door in B.G. and exits as MAN sits down again. ANOTHER hands him a memori-andum.

SECOND MAN

Karlski -

SECOND MAN moves out of scene as FIRST studies memo.

MAN
I am delighted to inform you we with the Brazilian Consulate -

MRS. KARLSKI
(overjoyed, tearfully)
Thank you, Monsieur -

In the background we see LARGO pressing a button in the wall, then waiting.

MAN
The Brotherhood will provide transportation and subsistence until you are once again self-supporting -

KARLSKI
We pay back - everything -
23. CTD.

MAN
That will not be necessary. Our funds come from certain private individuals who share our aims.

A light has come on above LARGO’s head, blinking slowly, as a panelled door slides open. He goes on in.

24. INT. LARGE CONFERENCE ROOM. BLOFELD

CAMERA ON HIS BACK as he sits down in an armchair positioned at the head of fourteen others in two rows of seven facing each other. Low lucite tables between chairs with neat stacks of agenda, glasses, carafes, pens, etc. Seated in all but two of the chairs are MEN of mixed nationalities, competent-looking, well-dressed, executive types. On the wall beyond the last chairs is a map of the world. He breaks off speaking as LARGO comes in.

BLOFELD
Come in Number Three. You do not need to apologise, I know why you are late.

25. CLOSE SHOT. BLOFELD

Face not visible as a white CAT jumps up into his lap. His hand strokes it as he speaks.

BLOFELD
(voice distinctive, slightly accented)
I was saying how much we all at Spectre regret the death in the Istanbul affair, of Number Six.... Rosa Klebb, who will be sadly missed.... but in the meantime we will proceed with the usual financial reports.... Number Ten?

26. GROUP. FEATURING NUMBER TEN

Who rises.

NUMBER TEN
Assassination of Perringe, the French anti-matter specialist who went over to the Russians. 5,000,000 francs from the Special Department of the Quay D’Orsay.
26. CTD.

He sits down.

BLOFELD'S VOICE

Number Twelve?

CAMERA PANS to NUMBER TWELVE, rising.

NUMBER TWELVE

Ransom for Della Blomberg, daughter of the Argentine industrialist — 1,000,000 pesos.

BLOFELD'S VOICE
(as CAMERA PANS TO NUMBER SEVEN)

Number Seven?

NUMBER SEVEN
(rising)

Blackmail of the double agent, Matsuo Fujiwa — unfortunately only 400,000 yen, all the man had.

BLOFELD'S VOICE

Number Five?

CAMERA PANS to FIVE, rising.

NUMBER FIVE

Our consultation fee for the British train robbery — £250,000.

BLOFELD'S VOICE
(as NUMBER FIVE sits down)

Number Eight?

CAMERA PANS to NUMBER EIGHT, rising, and NUMBER NINE, seated beside him.

NUMBER EIGHT

Distribution of Red Chinese narcotics in the United States — 2,300,000 dollars — (indicating NINE beside him) — collected by Number Nine and myself.
27. NEW ANGLE. BLOFIELD

CAMERA SHOOTING FROM BEHIND HIM TOWARD EIGHT AND NINE at his right.

BLOFIELD
(softly)
Two million three? Our expectations were considerably higher.

Both EIGHT and NINE look uneasy.

NUMBER EIGHT
(defensively)
Competition from Latin America. Prices are down.

BLOFIELD
I anticipated that factor, Number Eight. Are you quite sure all moneys have been accounted for?

NUMBER EIGHT
To the penny, Number One —

BLOFIELD
(silkily)
On the contrary, I have satisfied myself that nearly 500,000 dollars has been withheld —

NUMBER EIGHT faces him, pale-faced, tense, while NINE appears at ease.

28. CLOSE SHOT. BLOFIELD'S HAND

Leaving off stroking the CAT, moving to switch beneath table beside him.

BLOFIELD'S VOICE — and decided on the appropriate action.

HAND throws switch.

29. GROUP. FEATURING EIGHT AND NINE

As NUMBER NINE's body, suddenly galvanised by 3,000 volts, stiffens. CAMERA ZOOMS IN ON HIM. His face contorts, his eyes glare wildly, then dim. Wisps of smoke rise about him.
30. CLOSE SHOT. BLOFELD'S HAND

Pulling switch back.

31. CLOSE SHOT. NUMBER NINE

His body slumps forward in chair – CAMERA PANS AWAY QUICKLY to BLOFELD, who resumes stroking CAT.

32. NEW ANGLE. GROUP. FROM BEHIND BLOFELD

CAMERA avoiding NUMBER NINE'S BODY.

BLOFELD

Sit down, Number Eight. It was necessary to distract him. There might have been an untidy scene.

(as EIGHT sits down)

Number Nine lost the money at gambling. Spectre cannot jeopardise our new project, the most important we have ever undertaken, by tolerating an unreliable associate.

He turns to LARGO.

BLOFELD

This is your assignment Number Three, continue.

33. CLOSE SHOT. LARGO

Ignoring BODY.

LARGO

Our intention is to demand from the North Atlantic Treaty powers, two hundred and eighty million dollars... a hundred thousand pounds. Sub-Operator L. is in the south of England, making necessary preparations.

34. EXT. SHRUBLANDS. FULL SHOT. DAY

LARGO'S VOICE continuing over large red-brick Victorian building with a crenelated portico and glass-enclosed sun-porch. A drive cuts through a broad lawn where a few PATIENTS stroll about or sun themselves in reclining chairs.

LARGO'S VOICE
- at a health clinic known as Shrulands - conveniently situated near Boscombe Air Base -

35. INT. SHRUBLANDS. SWEAT-BOX ROOM. LIPSON. ATTENDANT

A small cubicle. On top of it a sign: DRY HEAT. LIPSON's head, sweating profusely, protrudes from thermostatically-controlled plastic box. He is in his middle thirties, with slightly slanted eyes, definitely a Eurasian, perhaps Indonesian-Dutch.

ATTENDANT
(Cockney accent)
I'll put it up to 120 for the last few minutes, sir.

LIPSON, eyes closed, nods drowsily. CAMERA COMES IN CLOSE ON ATTENDANT'S HAND as he sets control at 120 and the CLOCK to ring in two minutes.

36. INT. MASSAGE ROOM

The ATTENDANT comes out from Sweat-Box room. CAMERA MOVES WITH HIM, HOLDS as he reaches and walks past a massage table. JAMES BOND, face down on table with only a towel round his middle, is being vigorously massaged by PATRICIA FEARING, an athletic-looking beauty in a thin, short-sleeved smock with very little underneath it. Her expert manipulations evoke a series of involuntary grunts from him as she works on his spine. She stops, picks up a pair of large mink gloves, the fur on the palms, and resumes, this time gently.

BOND
That's better -

PATRICIA
Mink. It reduces tension.
36. CTD.

BOND
(looks round, grins)
That could be more easily achieved if you wore more clothes.... Miss?
.... Miss?

PATRICIA
(ignoring him)
I'm afraid your time is almost up.

BOND
(turning face to CAMERA)
What is your name - and when do you get off?

PATRICIA
Patricia Fearing - and a man with your back condition needs all the rest he can get -

She presses down severely. BOND grimaces with pain and lets out a grunt.

BOND
You did that on purpose.

PATRICIA
(innocently)
Not at all - I'm afraid you're going to need the full treatment.

ATTENDANT, carrying large terry cloth robe, passes table. CAMERA PANS HIM INTO SWEAT-BOX ROOM.

37. INT. SWEAT-BOX ROOM. LIPSON. ATTENDANT

Bell on clock rings. ATTENDANT shuts it off, turns heat off, opens box revealing rows of lamps inside, dimming down. LIPSON steps out into robe ATTENDANT holds for him, momentarily revealing a muscular, lithe body.

38. INT. MASSAGE ROOM. BOND. PATRICIA

Continuing to massage him as LIPSON, in the robe, comes out of sweat-box room, taking a distinctive Piaget watch with two gold bands out of a pocket.
38. CTD.

LIPSON
(stopping beside PAT)
I'll see you after my shower, Pat.

PATRICIA
I'll be ready. This is Mr. Bond – Mr. Lipson.

BOND
(holding out hand)
You're not taking her away from me already, are you?

39. INSERT: THEIR HANDS

As they shake. On LIPSON's wrist is a distinctive red tattoo – a zigzag crossed by two vertical strokes.

BOND'S VOICE
She's only just come into my life....

40. INT. AT TABLE. BOND. LIPSON. PATRICIA

As LIPSON covers tattoo by strapping on watch over it.

BOND
The only joy in this dreary place –

LIPSON
(grins easily)
You've discovered that too. A half hour, Pat –

He exits. BOND looks after him as PATRICIA resumes massage. Then as she runs her hand over a heavy bruised weal on his back.....

PATRICIA
Funny looking bruise.... a fall?

BOND
A poker... in the hands of a widow.

PATRICIA
I'm surprised... I'd've thought you were just the type for a widow.
40. CTD.

BOND
(casually)
Not this one. He didn’t like me at all.

He swings off the bench, leaving her to work this one out for herself. She is still trying to do so as we....

BOND
Yes, I think it’s a tong sign, the Red Lightning from Macao. Ask Records to verify it for me, will you?

INTERCUT BOND AND MONEYPENNY.

MONEYPENNY
Why’s this so important, James?

BOND
It’s just there’s a very nice young party here who might be getting mixed up with somebody not nice at all.

MONEYPENNY
(sweetly)
And this party’d be so much safer mixed up with you. Sorry, darling. You’re off duty. File it till you get back.
42. CTD.

BOND
Moneypenny, next time I see you
I'll turn you over my knee!

MONEYPENNY
On yoghurt and lemon juice? I can

She blinks as he evidently hangs up on her.

43. INT. LOBBY. BOND

Coming out of booth, looking O.S. CAMERA PANS TO LIPSON
AND PATRICIA going out front door.

44. INT. LOBBY. BOND

He goes to window, looks out.

45. WHAT HE SEES

LIPSON and PATRICIA getting into a Facel-Vega and driving

46. INT. SHRUBLANDS. CORRIDOR. BOND

Walking quietly past several doors. He stops at one with a card in a metal holder neatly lettered: N. LIPSON. He glances up and down corridor, then lets himself into room with a skeleton key.

47. INT. LIPSON'S ROOM. BOND

Quietly closing door behind him. A pleasantly furnished ground floor room with French doors opening out on the garden. BOND moves quickly to the desk, scans magazines, etc., looks through contents of drawers, then crosses to the dresser. As he opens the top drawer he hears a faint sound behind him and glances into mirror above dresser.

48. WHAT HE SEES IN MIRROR

Door between the room he is in and the one next to it is slowly opening. When it is partially opened he can see
48. CTD.

A somewhat frightening figure - a MAN in a robe and blue-striped pyjamas, with his entire head swathed in bandages covering everything but the eyes.

49. NEW ANGLE. BOND IN F.G.

CAMERA SHOOTING PAST HIM TOWARD MAN IN DOORWAY. BOND remains motionless as the door slowly closes. He walks quickly out into corridor.

50. INT. CORRIDOR. BOND

Walking away from door of LIPSON's room. He exits scene. Door of LIPSON's room opens slightly. The BANDAGED MAN peers out into corridor, looking after him.

DISOLVE:

51. INT. SHRUBLANDS. BASEMENT CORRIDOR. BOND. DAY

He wears terry-cloth robe over his shorts as he approaches a door lettered: OSTEOPATHIC TRACTION AND TURKISH BATH. He sighs resignedly, goes in.

52. INT. TRACTION ROOM. BOND

CAMERA ANGLE WIDENS as he stops short, to INCLUDE PATRICIA standing in front of a curtained alcove, consulting an X-ray photograph against an enlarging screen.

BOND

Me?

She nods briefly.

BOND

I'd never have recognised myself. Do I look healthy?

He puts an arm on her shoulder to peer forward. She dis-engages herself. She has had a lot of practice at this.

PATRICIA

(grimly)

Too healthy by far. Take off your bathrobe, please.
BOND
(sadly)
You never say that as if you meant it.

She colours slightly and turns away as BOND complies. Then, examining the X-ray and poking at BOND's rib...

PATRICIA
Lift your arms please.

He does so, but only to let them fall round and behind her, and then as he is pulling her towards him their mouths come together.

It is a longer kiss than she had imagined possible under these conditions, and it takes some time and all her skill to disengage herself.

PATRICIA
(severely)
Behave yourself, Mr. Bond. I can see there's only one place to keep you quiet.

She beckons to him, pulls the curtains to an alcove one side of the room.

In the alcove is an odd-looking surgical couch in leather and gleaming aluminium with a series of straps attached to three upholstered sections. Below the couch is an electric motor, from which a power drive of articulated rods reaches up to each of the cushioned sections and terminates in tension screws to which the rods are attached. In front of the raised portion for the patient's head, approximately level with his face, is a large DIAL marked in lbs-pressure up to 200. Below the headrest are grips for the patient's hands.

BOND
What's that?

PATRICIA
Motorised Traction Table — for stretching the spine.
52. CTD.

BOND
More like a wrack. You're sure it won't pull me apart?

PATRICIA
Don't be silly. I'm only starting you at 90 pounds. Face down, please.

BOND sighs, climbs reluctantly onto the couch.

BOND
(as she adjusts straps around him)
By the way, who's the man in the room next to your Mister Lipson?

PATRICIA
I really don't know too much about him. A Mr. Angelo. He's here with a private physician. Recuperating from a awful car crash, I understand. They say he's had goodness knows how many plastic surgeries -

She reaches for lever control beside big dial, depresses it. Motor begins to whine. The straps alternately tighten and relax. He grabs for hand-grips, hangs on to them.

53. INSERT: DIAL

Needle at 90, holding there. The numbers above 120 are in red.

54. INT. ALCOVE. BOND. PATRICIA

Straps tightening and loosening. She looks down at him, grins faintly.

PATRICIA
First time I've felt really safe today. I'll look in and see how you're doing in fifteen minutes.

She steps back, draws curtains, smiles, walks out of room. CAMERA MOVES TO WALL CLOCK, indicating 22 minutes after ten.

DISSOLVE:
55. WALL CLOCK

Now reading 28 minutes after ten. CAMER A ANGLE WIDENS to include BOND ON COUCH, his eyes closed, the straps operating rhythmically. He hears a sound outside curtains, turns his head toward them, opens his eyes. Slowly a tanned, muscular arm reaches through curtains toward lever near dial.

56. INSERT: HAND DEPRESSING DIAL

On the wrist is the distinctive Piaget watch covering the tattoo. The needle on the dial starts moving up. The hand draws back out of shot.

57. INT. ALCOVE. BOND

Whine of motor builds, the straps tightening and loosening more rapidly and with increasing violence. BOND struggles desperately as his back is racked by powerful wrenches.
He tries to shout, but can only manage choked, intermittent gasps.

58. INSERT: DIAL

Needle rises to 200, stays there.

59. INT. ALCOVE. BOND

His features contort agonizedly as the couch seems to go beserk.

59a. EFFECTS SHOT. PATRICIA

The face is coming and going in great jerks and then suddenly the sound ceases.

59b. INT. ALCOVE. BOND. PATRICIA

Her hand comes away from the switch, goes up nervously to her mouth.

PATRICIA

My God.... my God.... you could've been killed.....

She helps him up. He straightens himself painfully. Then with an effort.
59b. CTD.

BOND
I feel like I've grown about six inches.

PATRICIA
(very upset)
Can't think how it could've happened
.... and I can tell you it's a miracle I came back when I did... I'd left my watch behind.

She is wiping the sweat off his body with a towel, for he is soaking wet.

BOND
I'll buy you another one tomorrow....
solid diamond.

She raises the trace of a smile, and we see how nervous she still is.

PATRICIA
You're safe enough, all shops shut.
That's why there was nobody about to hear you.... Saturday's a half-day..... a holiday.

He is on his feet by now, taking the towel from her to rub himself down, though this is evidently something of an effort. She has crossed to a glass door in the wall, opened it to reveal the thick blanket of steam beyond.

PATRICIA
You spend ten minutes in the steam room, it'll relax you properly.

BOND
(sourly)
You think I need relaxing after that? Wait till I tell your Doctor Wain what I think about this place of his, and this broken-down equipment....

PATRICIA
(swiftly)
You wouldn't tell him.... please
.... I'd lose my job.
59b. CTD.

There is a silence. Now he is looking at her more cheerfully again, and now he is smiling.

BOND

I suppose my silence could have a price.

She stares at him, and then suddenly she finds she is blushing.

PATRICIA

You don't mean? Oh no! Oh no!

He nods slowly, the grin on his face widening all the time.

BOND.

(softly)

Oh, yes! Oh, yes!

59c. INT. STEAM ROOM. DAY

Steam billows round the camera as it moves forward, and it is with difficulty that we can just make out a woman's bare feet as she stands on her tiptoes stretching upwards. A few inches away are the man's feet and legs.

CAMERA PANS UPWARDS, past a thicker bank of steam which conveniently covers up everything until from out of the mists emerge bare arms and shoulders and then the faces as PATRICIA's mouth comes away from his. They are both rather red in the face and covered with perspiration, and now we hear her laughing.

PATRICIA

No, you're wrong... this is not what I meant by the full treatment.

The steam rises higher and higher making it even more difficult to see anything at all.

This is probably just as well.

69. INT. CORRIDOR

LIPSON's cries deeply muffled in the deserted corridor.

70. INT. SWEAT-BOX ROOM. LIPSON

His face contorted, rivulets of water running down it, as it takes on an increasingly reddish hue.

LIPSON

Help! Help!

Gradually his shouts are reduced to inarticulate wheezes. Then his eyes close and his mouth opens as he gasps torturedly for breath.

72. INT. BOSCOMBE ARMS. PALAZZI'S ROOM. PALAZZI.

FIONA. NIGHT

COLONEL FRANCO PALAZZI and FIONA, are to be found embracing on divan. He is in his middle thirties, darkly handsome with a trim moustache, and a charming Continental manner. Except for the tunic which he has tossed on a chair, he wears the uniform of an Italian Air Force Officer. FIONA KELLY, red-headed, Irish, at the moment revealingly deshabille, is the most beautiful accomplished young witch since Morgan Le Fey. Telephone rings. She reaches out lazily.

FIONA:

Colonel Palazzi's social secretary.

He makes a face at her, as she grins, mockingly.

FIONA

(into telephone)

I'm afraid you've got the wrong number.

She hangs up, reaches out for him, and as the embrace continues we just hear his mumble.
72. CTD.

PALAZZI
You don't think we could be more comfortable somewhere else, where....

Again there is an interruption from the telephone. Again she reaches out but has not time to answer before the voice at the other end has spoken.

(filtered)
Colonel Palazzi?

She hands him the receiver.

PALAZZI
I'll come down pronto..... Thank you.

He hangs up and at the same time pulls FIONA towards him skilfully.

PALAZZI
(a sigh)
Interruptions.... telephone calls ... the story of my life.

She pushes him away.

FIONA
You'll be late at the Air Base.... and besides it'll give you time to cool off.

PALAZZI
You'll be here when I come back?

She nods.

PALAZZI
But I may not be in the mood then.

FIONA
You want to bet?

PALAZZI
(pleasedly)
You know your Franco, eh?
72. CTD.

FIONA (drily)
I know me.

Before he can kiss her again, the buzzer sounds. He sighs, releases her, gets up.

PALAZZI (calling)
One moment. (he shrugs)
I told them I'd be down.

FIONA rises, helps him into his tunic.

Happy landing.

FIONA
He kisses her, picks up his navigation bag, slaps his cap on his head.

PALAZZI (with a characteristic gesture)
Ciao!

He walks to the door, opens it, freezes. Standing in doorway is himself in identical uniform (ANGELO). PALAZZI stares in amazement, then turns towards FIONA, his finger pointing toward his double.

PALAZZI
Have you ever....

The two quick, and softly plopping sounds, make him look even more amazed as he slips down on to the floor, the OTHER reaching out to catch him and break his fall.

FIONA unscrews the silencer from off the gun in her hand, beckons the OTHER, and false Palazzi, forward. At the same time LIPSON also appears in the doorway.

LIPSON (quickly)
Nobody in the corridor... nobody saw him....
72. CTD.

FIONA
(interrupting savagely)
Shut the door... unless you're trying to sell tickets.

With an almost frightened look at FIONA, he comes in quickly, closes the door. She takes the handbag he is carrying, drops down beside ANGELO who is staunching the blood from the wounds with a thick gauze dressing.

ANGELO
The floor's quite clean.

FIONA gives a quick professional look, raises the lids on the dead man's face. A jerk of the head to LIPSON.

FIONA
You take over. Our ambulance and doctor outside?

LIPSON
Everything as arranged.

FIONA and ANGELO go over to the table. From out of the handbag she takes a flat plastic oxygen container, attached to a mask, hands it to ANGELO. He stuffs it inside his shirt.

FIONA
Your breathing equipment –

FIONA hands him a small metal cylinder.

FIONA
The pressurised gas –

ANGELO puts cylinder in tunic pocket. LIPSON kneeling beside PALAZZI'S BODY, takes off his I.D. tag and a wristwatch, removes wallet from tunic, hands them to FIONA. She at the same time has taken out of the handbag a thick envelope. ANGELO looks at it, then shakes his head.

ANGELO
Half a million dollars is not enough.
ANGELO (ctd.)
(as FIONA and LIPSON glance at each other)
Two years of my life – studying the film – your reports –
(touching his face)
The operations – voice lessons –
Make it a million. Or get someone else.

LIPSON
There is no one else –

ANGELO
Exactly. I am Palazzi.

LIPSON straightens up, a gun in his hand.

FIONA
(sharply)
Put that away. Angelo is right!
He's worth it. I'll inform Number One we've made a new arrangement – this is merely a down payment.

ANGELO hesitates, then reaches out for the money, then takes PALAZZI's navigation bag.

ANGELO
(characteristic Palazzi gesture)
Ciao! Wish me luck.

FIONA
The cap – further lack on the head – and as LIPSON pulls the body away, ANGELO adjusts it, walks to the door, opens it.

ANGELO
(pausing deliberately)
The rest of my money..... have it ready.

The door closes behind him. LIPSON takes blue-striped pyjamas out of his bag and a roll of bandages. He hands

199d. ITT. FIRENZE'S FLAT. BOND. DAY

BOND taps on the door. PULL BACK as he glances again left and right. BOND shrugs an', almost reluctantly, slips his hand into his coat pocket and brings out a small, rectangular piece of celluloid. He slips it in between the edge of the door and the door jamb, by the Yale lock. He works for a moment an' then pushes the door open. He shakes his head slightly and steps into the flat.

199e. ITT. FIRENZE'S FLAT. BOND. DAY

BOND closes the door quietly behind him as he steps forward into the centre of the main room. As he begins his scrutiny of the room, SWING with the movement of his head, centre on the door into the bedroom, catch a movement through the hinge opening and ZOOM forward across the room.

199f. ITT. FIRENZE'S FLAT. FIONA.

BOND walks across the room, towards the bedroom door. He is about to step through the doorway, when he sees a photograph on the bureau in the corner of the room, amongst hi-fi equipment, records and books. He turns away from the bedroom.

FIONA tenses, listening.

BOND slips the photograph into his pocket and walks across to door. He listens for a moment, opens the door and walks out, shutting the door.

GROUP CAPTAIN
Oh, no - sir! Not possible. He was seen boarding and took off in the Vulcan - last night.

Hum. Do you know where she is?

BOND
She's in Nassau.

II.
You think she's worth investigating?

How do you do?

Get on to De Beers at once.

KENNISTON
Yes, sir.

The HOME SECRETARY stands up.

HOME SECRETARY
Gentlemen – either we find those bombs, or I'm very much afraid we shall have to pay their price.

M.
I had a signal this morning, sir – from Double-07 in Nassau.

HOME SECRETARY
What's he got to report?

M.
One or two things might interest us – anyway, things seem to be hotting up.

KENNISTON
Sir.
HOME SECRETARY

Yes - what is it?

KENNISON

Dr. Beers, sir. They're pretty pessimistic about making up the consignment of diamonds in time.

HOME SECRETARY

Are they!

The HOME SECRETARY walks across and takes the phone.

HOME SECRETARY (ctd.)

I'll speak to them.

(into phone)

I am not asking for an opinion. I am telling you what must be done.

Do you understand? And in something less than forty-eight hours.

BOND.

Here it is. See? The underwater hatch.

LEITER.

Yeah, I see it. So?

BOND.

That's the way they took the bombs aboard.

LEITER.

Hey!

BOND.

And no one saw them.

(to Paula)

Bring the dry prints to the hotel. Right? Come on Felix

LEITER

Where?
BOND:
If they've an underwater hatch —
the whole operation was underwater.
So — that's where we'll look for the 'plane. Right?

LEITER
The Air Force combed an area of 250 miles out from Nassau.

BOND
So - the plane has to be that far away.

LEITER
At least.

BOND
Another thing - the underwater hatch on the Disco Volante. The bombs could have been taken aboard - shipped away....

LEITER
(interrupting)
Not by the Disco Volante. Harbour Control says she was out that night - but only six hours.

BOND
(fed-up)
And she couldn't make 500 miles in that time.

LEITER
'Bout ninety miles is her limit - for six hours - there and back.

BOND looks down at the sea again.

346. WHAT HE SEES

Blue water, islands.

347. INT. COCKPIT. BOND. LEITER. (PROCESS)

Let's get back to Nassau. We've spent enough time up here.

LEITER
Time is something we don't have to waste.
Along the coast of New Providence.

BOND
(looking through glasses)
There's Largo's place.

Disco Volante anchored off-shore again.

My next port of call.

LARGO lifts a rifle and calls for a clay pigeon to be released. He steadies and fires. The clay pigeon shatters.

Of course they are watching us, my dear.

He calls for another clay pigeon. He aims and hits it.

What else have they to do?

LARGO locks round at FIONA. CAMERA ANGLE VIEWS AS FIONA STOPS UP TO SHOOT.

They can only hope we shall make a mistake - before their time runs out.

FIONA calls and shoots. She calls again and shoots again. Both times she shatters the target.

If you had succeeded in killing Bond last night....

That was unfortunate - agreed. A misunderstanding.

LARGO calls and shoots. He shatters the target.
X25. CTD.

Was it?

Of course.

Are you sure....

(My dear -- surely this can wait a moment?

LARGO calls and shoots. He shatters the target.

You would like Bond dead.

Yes.

Because he tries to make love to your woman?

Because he is Bond -- and should be killed.

When the time is right -- he will be killed.

FIONA calls and shatters the target.

I shall kill him.

FIONA calls and shatters the target.

Sometimes, my dear.....

LARGO cradles FIONA's face in one of his hands. She does not move away from him. She does not react at all.

I think you forget -- I found you.
I made you.

FIONA
If Bond had died last night — as a result of your "misunderstanding" — his Government would know for a certainty the bombs are here.

X29. PALMYRA. LARGO

LARGO
Fortunately, however — he did not die.

LARGO calls viciously and fires. He hits the target. He calls again, fires and hits the target.

LARGO

BOND
I'm not a passionate man.

BOND looks directly at DOMINO, who has stretched herself luxuriously on a reclining chair.

DOMINO

FIONA
I know. It's extraordinary,

BOND
It was meant. Yes.

FIONA puts a hand on his arm. She feels his shirt is damp and runs her hand up on to his shoulder.

FIONA
Shouldn't you get out of those wet things?

PUSH IN TOWARDS FIONA'S FACE, looking up at BOND.

BOND'S VOICE
Perhaps I should.

FIONA (huskily)

    Anything.

    BOND
    Is the girl one of you?

FIONA glances round at BOND.

    FIONA
    One of us?

    BOND
    If it's meant to be a secret, darling - you shouldn't wear the same ring as Largo. Should you?

FIONA puts the brush down casually and reaches for her compact and lipstick.

413d. INT. PAULA'S ROOM. FIONA

    FIONA
    It's a ring I like to wear.

    Vanity, Mr. Bond?

413e. INT. PAULA'S ROOM. FIONA. BOND

BOND takes hold of FIONA's shoulders and turns her.

    FIONA
    Something you know so much about.
FIONA presses the bottom of the lipstick and the blade shoots out, the tip just touching the skin of BOND's throat.

FIONA
(calling)

Vargas.

BOND starts to move.

FIONA
No, don't move.

FIONA pushes a second knife forward against the pit of BOND's stomach.

FIONA
I'm sure you have a proper sense of values, James.

BOND glances down at the second knife with difficulty.

BOND
Oh, yes.

VARGAS walks out of BOND's room into PAULA's room. He is wearing a Jumbrancu costume, with the hood thrown back. He is carrying an automatic pistol. He takes hold of BOND, looping an arm round his neck and pulls him backwards off-balance. FIONA stands up with the two blades following BOND closely.

JANET walks forward carrying a costume like the one he and VARGAS are wearing. VARGAS drags BOND into the room, spins him round and throws him forward on to the floor.

FIONA
Get dressed, Mr. Bond.

BOND
(looking up)
You didn't answer my question, Fiona.

FIONA
Would we employ an amateur like that stupid girl!

JANNI throws the costume on to the floor beside BOND.

BOND

You don't expect me to wear that, surely?

FIONA

No, darling - you're just clocking out.

BOND picks up the costume.

What did you say?

BOND

Normally I wouldn't accept an invitation.....

(helping the GIRL off the bar stool)

..... from a stranger.

GIRL

What d'you think.....

BOND

But - as it's you!

BOND starts to dance with the GIRL, who shrugs and follows his lead.
FIONA watches and the DRIVER watch from the edge of the dance floor as BOND and the GIRL dance together.

INT. JUMP JUMP CLUB. BOND. GIRL

GIRL

You're mad. D'you know that?

BOND

Of course. Isn't everyone?

FIONA

FIONA

(harshly)

You can't escape, Mr. Bond.

BOND

I don't want to escape. Strange as it may seem - I'm getting quite fond of you.

BOND holds her tightly, one arm round her waist and the other holding her free hand, which is clasping her handbag. They pass VARGAS, who has a hand half inside his coat. They pass JANIE and then, the DRIVER.

FIONA

Why don't you come with us, quietly?

BOND

I like dancing.
FIONA tries to break free. Their hands grip round the handbag.

VARGAS masked by JANNE pulls out a short spear gun.

BOND looks past FIONA at VARGAS. JANNE.

The DANCERS surge round BOND and FIONA as the dance reaches its climax.

BOND and FIONA are left struggling in a clear line from VARGAS.

The DRUMMER breaks into a frantic solo.

VARGAS fires.

BOND

I'll have to hurt you. Ready?

Head on arm, DOMINO nods. He sinks his teeth into flesh around barb.

449. CLOSE SHOT. DOMINO

Biting her lips, tears welling up in her eyes.

450. EXT. PALM TREES. VARGAS

Watching them, slowly moving closer.

451. EXT. BEACH. BOND. DOMINO

He glances at her. She closes her eyes.

BOND

First time I've eaten a woman. They taste rather good.

He bends down again, sucks hard, lifts his head, picks out spine with his fingers. She rolls over and sits up.

DOMINO

(quietly)

You are the only man who has ever made me cry.

BOND looks seriously at her, but doesn't speak.

DOMINO

(laughing)

Except perhaps my brother—when we were children.

DOMINO leans forward and inspects her foot.
BOND
Domino - I have to tell you....

DOMINO
(quickly)
I am sorry, James - I did not mean to embarrass you. Speaking of love. I know....

BOND
(interrupting)
I have to hurt you again - and worse.

DOMINO
(lightly)
You are going away? "So sorry, my dear - but it is all over!"

BOND
I have to tell you about your brother.

DOMINO
(abruptly)
What - about him?

BOND pulls his jacket out of the boat and looks in one of the pockets for Derval's watch. DOMINO watches silently.
BOND takes out the watch and hands it to DOMINO.

DOMINO
(quickly)
Francois.

She looks at the watch and then looks again at BOND.

DOMINO
He is dead?

BOND
Yes.

DOMINO
What happened?

BOND
It's a long story - a bad one
- and it involves your friend
Largo.
DOMINO
(quietly)
When we were children I remember....

BOND
I need your help.

DOMINO
He frightened me - Francois - he pretended he was dead.

BOND
Domino!

BOND grips DOMINO roughly by the arms.

BOND
Listen to me. I am on oath to tell no one about this.

DOMINO
Of course! That's why you made love to me.

BOND
I have to trust you.....

DOMINO
You want me to help you!

BOND
I thought at first you were part of the conspiracy.

DOMINO
Now, you blackmail me with the death of my brother.

BOND
Your brother was killed by Largo - or on his orders.

DOMINO
I hate you!

BOND
I came to tell you that - and then - seeing you - knowing it was now - or perhaps never - yes - I made love to you.
DOMINO

I hate you.

BOND

I didn't want to tell you, Domino.
I didn't want to hurt you. But something - more important - something....

BOND stops for a moment and then, gently, takes hold of one of her hands.

BOND

Hundreds - perhaps thousands of people will die - and very soon
- if you won't help me.

EXT. PALM TREES. VARGAS

Moving stealthily towards them, drawing stiletto.

EXT. BEACH. BOND. DOMINO

BOND is sitting with his back toward the palm trees.

BOND

That much we know - but there's something we don't know - something we must know! When the bombs are taken on board the Disco Volante.

DOMINO

How can you know that?

BOND

You're going to tell us.

DOMINO

(quietly)

I see.

BOND

It won't be easy and it could be dangerous.

DOMINO

What can he do to me, he hasn't already done?
453. CTD.

BOND

You'll help?

DOMINO

Yes.

BOND

Good. Look – this is a geiger counter.

BOND hands the camera to DOMINO.

BOND

Press this button. If you hear a clicking sound – the bombs are on board.

DOMINO

What shall I do?

BOND

Go up on deck. The Disco is being watched. You'll be spotted and....

DOMINO

(suddenly)

Vargas.

454. EXT. BEACH. CAMERA SHOOTING OVER BOND'S SHIP. DOMINO'S FLY.

DOMINO'S VOICE

He must have followed me.

VARGAS is in the trees directly behind BOND. Only a few yards of sand between them.

BOND

(loudly)

You must have heard that one before!

455. EXT. BEACH. BOND. DOMINO. VARGAS

VARGAS is immediately behind BOND with his stiletto poised. BOND reaches into the boat.
BOND
Oh, yes — and there's the one about the absentminded stripteaseur......

BOND picks up a short CO2 gun, spear in the barrel, turns smartly and covers VARGAS over DOMINO's shoulder.

BOND
You'll die laughing, Vargas — when you get the point.

BOND fires. The spear buries itself in VARGAS' chest. He reels back, clutching at it with both hands. CAMER A LOSES EYE AS BOND AND DOMINO gaze coldly at the body C.S.

DOMINO
It should have been largo.

BOND
When does he expect you back?

DOMINO
Very soon — and he said — "Do not be late". He was most insistent.

BOND
I'll take care of Vargas.

DOMINO
James — understand — I am doing this for Francois.

BOND
Yes.

DOMINO
But — when I said — hate — I didn't mean....

BOND
No — you were right. You didn't know .......

DOMINO
I do not hate you.

BOND kisses her.
DOMINO

(suddenly)

James - do not send me back to him.
Please! I am frightened.

BOND holds her, but he doesn't speak. DOMINO steps away from him.

DOMINO

I'm sorry. Yes, I'll go - but promise me. You will kill Largo for me? Whatever happens.

BOND

Hurry. There's very little time.

DOMINO

(quietly)

Yes.

BOND picks up her clothes out of the boat.

DOMINO

One thing - it may not be important... .

What?

DOMINO

A small building - on the cliff. Largo told me one day - never to go near it. Funny - inside there was only a flight of steps.

BOND

You looked?

DOMINO

Naturally! He said I should not.

BOND

Where did they lead?

DOMINO

Down - into the cliff - and at the bottom.....
